What a time this is, dear colleagues. I hope that individually and collectively you/we are finding ways to cope, support, and participate as your own situations require or desire. Still, the business of the College continues.

- Charles Pryor is sending a message out to students that we will post on the Guttman home page.
- Our social media spaces are honoring #blackouttuesday in support of the Black Lives Matter campaign. We will be working on new social media with OSE and Lavita and Bindi.
- Anastasia reports that 39th and 40th streets were hotbeds last night. The Dunkin Donuts on 39th was destroyed, and there are fires in the park every night. Since events are so unpredictable, she recommends that no one come to the building. Our Public Safety staff has been safe so far in the building, and Anastasia herself has been spending a lot of time there. She will be sending out a message to campus today.
- Tomorrow’s “State of the Grizz” will feature our valedictorian and salutatorian, and part of the meeting will also be dedicated to talking about what is happening in hearts and minds and on our streets. OSE is doing a fantastic job reaching out to students.
- Remember to get your Summer Fridays confirmation back to HR.
- John and his team are working on extending the deadline for student technology loans, as well as a plan for the return of items. He’ll be sending out a memo soon.
- Our Emergency Group won’t be meeting until Friday. If anything urgent arises, we will be sure to let you know.

In the meantime, take care.

Linda

To unsubscribe from the GCC-COMMUNITY list, click the following link:
https://LISTSERV.CUNY.EDU/scripts/wa.exe?SUBED1=GCC-COMMUNITY&A=1