Guttman’s Modality of Work and Instruction & the College’s Reopening Committee

First, I want to thank everyone for the tremendous effort it has taken to sustain our College.

Despite the fact that NYC is not yet in Phase 4, and our city must reach that milestone before any school reopens, Guttman needs to begin to make specific plans that are appropriate for our campus. All Fall 1 classes will be online, and all staff and faculty will continue to work remotely for the time being.

In order to give our students as much of a college experience as conditions allow, we want to begin to consider how we can eventually reopen specific spaces over time. We are forming a Guttman Reopening Committee (GRC) that will begin to consider questions, practices, processes and protocols that we must put in place so that our students and we remain safe.

The membership of the Committee is listed below. The GRC will make recommendations to Senior Staff.
