Good afternoon GCC Students,

I want to update you on Guttman and CUNY’s continued responses to Coronavirus (COVID-19) in relation to services and classes at the College. Guttman, and CUNY, still remain open for classes. As we monitor the situation, we are also preparing for other contingency plans that could include remote learning. Faculty and Staff are preparing to provide both instruction and student services even if we are not physically in the building. At this time, as a precaution, we have also halted all international and domestic travel which includes local travel to conferences and some class outings. Additionally, college events with greater than 50 participants are on hold until further notice.

If you are not signed up for CUNY Alerts, please make sure that you log into your CUNYFirst Account and update your contact information in the Alert System. As previously mentioned, please check the Guttman and CUNY websites regularly for the most updated information about COVID-19.

Please remember to email OSE.Dean@guttman.cuny.edu if you are feeling any symptoms, have traveled to a CDC 2 or 3 country. We can all stay safe by remembering to take ordinary precautions such as washing our hands for 20 seconds every time you come in contact with others. Also, please utilize the hand sanitizer stations located around the building.

If you have any questions, please contact us.
